King of the Banjo, dies

Maurice Bolyer, heralded as the "King of the Banjo" across North America died Friday in a Toronto hospital at the age of 57.

Many Minden and area resident may remember Mr. Bolyer as Tommy Hunter's banjo player during his stint at the Academy Theatre, Lindsay during the 1960's. Indeed he played with Hunter up until his death recently.

In addition to this work, Maurice Bolyer also performed in concerts for troops assigned to the UN peace keeping missions in the Middle East and Cyprus.

Mitchell Insulation get rights to manufacture paint in Can.

COBOCONK — Gord Mitchell of Mitchell Insulation in Coboconk, has been awarded the right to manufacture paint containing Dyco chemicals in Canada. Gord explains that Dyco is a paint out of the field of plexiglass. This temperature reducing paint has the highest titanium content of many paints and the titanium is helpful in providing hiding power for spots that are difficult to cover. Dyco is the only

Minden couple celebrate 60th Wedding anniversary

MINDEN — On Sunday afternoon at Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home, over 150 relatives, friends and guests turned up for the 60th wedding anniversary of Hugh and Martha Kernohan. The Kernohans are life-long residents of the Minden area, coming here shortly after their marriage in Woodville, Ontario in 1918.

Hugh bought a farm on the old Ransley Road, just north of Minden about three miles and his wife Martha taught school in the area from 1911 until 1932. He farmed and worked in logging camps until 1968 when he and Martha moved into Minden. In February of 1977, Hugh sold his home on South Water St. and they moved into Hyland Crest.

Hugh and Martha have two children, Ivan and Hughena. Both were at the festivities with their families, Ivan and Pearl with Kathy and Glenda and Gerald of Burlington and Hughena and Clarence Redner with Ray, Pat and Susan of Haliburton.

The Kernohan's received many letters, messages and plaques from the various heads of government as well as a congratulatory telegram from Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth.

paint company that lists the pigments in their paint on the label and there are 2200 different colours to choose from.

Gord states that all people in Dyco are trained applicators and dealers, and last year there were three seminars given in Florida for employees. Mr. Mitchell says that he is receiving calls from across Canada about Dyco paint and is having discussions about working on four, 18 storey apartment buildings at York University.

A Dyco product, Clear-seal is presently being heat, cold and salt tested by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications in Ontario for possible use on road under and overpasses. A course on Dyco products will be held September 12-13 at Mitchell's plant on Hwy. 35 north of Rosedale.

At present Mitchell's employs four permanent employees and three part time workers. He explains that he could hire 30 people but has been given no federal assistance.

Paint manufacturing locally is expected to start in the near future.

MINDEN — A letter was received from Cecil P. Gibson on Little Horseshoe Lake, requesting permission to replace an old fence with a new one. Council directed bylaw enforcement officer, Dick Schell to investigate the matter for the next meeting.

Mr. G. J. Saunders of Northern Eagle Tent & Trailer park attended council to request permission to expand his camping facilities. A motion was passed agreeing in principle with the proposed expansion to add additional washrooms and to increase the campsites to 150.

A letter received from Pete Miscio requested council's permission to construct a dock on 12 Mile

GEMINI (5-21/6-20): We all know, Gem, that you're not the most domestic person in the world, but this is a great time to concentrate on your home. Whether you choose to do a late-summer cleaning, a bit of redecorating, or a new arrangement of furniture, spend some time at home.

MOONCHILD (6-21/7-22): Money matters look up, Moonbaby. A block is cleared and you can finally make the strides you want. Then, messages and errands keep you

SAGITTARIUS (11-23/12-21): Strong romantic attraction pulls you. Why fight it? Run to it in leaps and bounds, Sag. Later, be as realistic as you can. If you're still sporting those rose-colored glasses, somebody's likely to pull 'em off.

CAPRICORN (12-22/1-19): Where there should be cooperation this week, what you may have to contend with is one who wants to run the whole show. Unfortunately, it's not to your advantage to take your marbles and go home. C'est la vie. Capov!

A motion was passed by council agreeing to provide approximately $500 for the purchase of two 56" fans, 70' of eavestroughing and heat cord for installation in the firehall.

A letter was received in council from Mrs. Gillard of Brady's Lake, requesting fill and markers on a section of the Brady Lake Road. Road Superintendent, Earl Kent was directed to make the required repairs.

Thinking Slim

BY JEAN NIDETCH

It was 3 a.m. when Mr. A. turned the light on in the kitchen — and found Mrs. A. sitting there, devouring a whole chocolate cake.

"I was so obsessed with satisfying my longing for chocolate," she told me, "I didn't even hear him coming. All I knew was that I couldn't stop thinking about chocolate. All day, all night, I thought about chocolate sundaes, thick pieces of chocolate candy — and I couldn't stand it any more. I didn't care any more about my weight control program (and here I'd lost 23 pounds!) — I wanted what I wanted."

You can imagine how she felt being discovered. What was worse, she said, was that her husband had given her nothing but encouragement and support all the time she was losing weight. So she felt as if she had let him down as well as herself. But they agreed that one "slip" didn't mean the end of it all.

"Still," she went on, "what troubles me is that, bombarded with temptations on TV, I know I'm going to do this again. I'm afraid I'm eventually going to abandon my diet and become a self-indulgent fatty again."

Ah, my dear, you're not alone. Do you know how many of us there are who are obsessed with one food or another — or several of them? I know one man who is a pasta-addict and there's the high school student who simply adores bread in any size, shape or form. All of us know what it means to be under the influence of one particularly appealing food.

Therefore, I'll tell you what I think you should do: give in! Enjoy yourself! Be "self-indulgent" by all means — but there is a way you can do it without guilt and remorse and without sabotaging your weight control program.

I know that Weight Watchers has developed hundreds upon hundreds of recipes that use things like chocolate extract, sugar substitutes, etc. They satisfy your craving, your taste, and keep you right on your weight control program. There's an entire school of cooking that has been developed not only for people like us but even for the always thin who want to eat well and nutritiously.

Why, the whole idea behind a good weight control program, in addition to learning good eating habits, is not to make you feel deprived. Now, I'm not saying that you can sit down and eat an entire chocolate cake even if it's made "legally." I am saying you can certainly satisfy your longing for it — and still get thin.

How do you think I finally lost 72 pounds?

Stanhope walkathon raises $500 toward rec. projects

STANHOPE — On Sunday, August 27th the Stanhope Recreation Committee's 1st annual walk-a-thon raised some $500 in pledges toward the many projects undertaken throughout the year by the committee.

Eighteen people took part and started at the Stanhope Township garage proceeding north along North Shore Road to Dawson Road, along Dawson to the Blagdon Hill Gate and back to the garage, a total of 12.7 kilometres (8 miles.)

The committee hopes in the near future to install tennis courts in the township. The money raised by the walk-a-thon plus the approval of an application for a grant from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation could see the tennis courts become a reality for residents.

THE ANNUAL MUNICIPAL ENUMERATION STARTS NEXT WEEK

The annual municipal enumeration will begin on Tuesday, September 5, 1978. During this month, an enumerator, carrying a proper identification card, will call at your residence for a few minutes to check basic information required in determining:

- your eligibility to vote in the municipal and school board elections to be held on November 13 this year;
- the allocation of education property taxes between the public and separate school systems;
- the distribution of provincial grants to local governments to help reduce local tax bills;
- the preparation of jurors' lists; and
- population information needed for other municipal programs.

The enumerator must record such information as the name, age, property status (e.g. owner or tenant), school support and residency of all members of the household.

When the enumerator visits, please check that the information on the Enumeration Notice is correct. If it is not, revise it and verify the changes.

If you are not home, a Notice will be left for you. If changes are necessary, please make them and mail the Enumeration Notice, as soon as possible, in the self addressed postage prepaid envelope accompanying the Notice. For any additional information, please contact the local assessment office.

Forest Echo Motel under new management

Ask Alma

Dear Alma:

I am 22 and have two kids. I have been married four years. I used to be really religious and loved going to church. I haven't gone for a long time because my husband won't go with me. He doesn't drink or cheat on me so I don't understand why he won't go to church. He said one day he would go but it might be too late then.

Please answer because I would love to start living a good life again. — S.A.

Dear S.A.:

Don't be upset with your husband for not wanting to go to church. He has made the decision for himself and is not objecting to your making your own choice.

If you were happy when you attended church, I hope you will start going again, even by yourself.

Each of us is responsible for making his own good life.

Dear Alma:

My wife suddenly has taken up wearing bikinis, skin tight jeans, see-thru blouses, etc. She is 40 and has a decent figure for her age, but I think she looks ridiculous trying to dress like a teenager. She says I'm an old-fashioned relic and that this is 1978 and she can wear whatever she enjoys.

Alma, I swear, she is trying to go through a second childhood and is being foolish and making a fool of herself. What do you think? — A-Waiting your answer in Maryland.

Dear A-Waiting:

I think it's time YOU took up something — like photography. Start taking candid of your family (especially your wife) and put them all into a scrapbook for her. Say nothing. If her outfits are as foolish as you say she'll probably see it herself and you'll have to shell out for a new wardrobe. If she likes what she sees, you'd better resign yourself to living with a sexy, youthful gal.

Hey, is that so bad?

One way to give a fellow less rope is to tie a marriage knot in it.

"If the girls are coming over for coffee today, you'd better pick up some vermouth!"

NORLAND — After working in the city of Toronto all their lives, Ralph and Olive Meyers, along with their nine year old daughter, Helga, decided it was time to leave the rat-race of heavy traffic everyday, stale air and all the other things that make a person want to get out of a large city.

In January of this year they headed for Haliburton County. After looking at many of the beautiful lodges in the area they decided on Forest Echo Motel and Restaurant, just north of the County line on Highway 35.

On July 13th, they made the big move and are now happier than they've been in years. The beautifully laid out motel on the banks of Moore Lake is like looking at one of those illustrated post cards. It consists of six motel units, a dining room that seats 24 at present, with the Meyer's hoping to up the seating to 32 in the near future. The business is open all year, seven days a week. Ralph and Olive will be promoting their accommodations to snowmobilers, cross country skiers and ice fishermen in the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer's hail from Bay Ridges, Ont. where Olive was a housewife and prior to that had been a passenger agent for Air Canada. Ralph was a salesman for Profit Sales for five years and before that was a department manager for Dominion Stores. Congratulations folks on your new venture.

Beggar your Neighbour

A long time ago, the well-known Fathers of Confederation agreed that, in future, all of Canada would stand together, sharing equally in the good and the bad. But something went wrong along the way and now the impoverished Maritimes are part of the same Confederation as wealthy Alberta and Ontario.

Increasingly — and quite aside from the well-known sovereignty issue in Quebec — Confederation has become a matter of every province for itself. The noble concept of one for all and all for one has gone by the boards.

One example of the course we're taking can be found in Quebec where, by provincial decree, it has been specified that construction workers from outside Quebec will not be permitted to work in that province unless it can be determined that workers with similar skills are not available locally.

Quebec's action invited immediate response from Ontario which has introduced legislation barring Quebec tradesmen. Other regions can be expected to follow suit.

But let's not dump all the blame on one province. Last year, for example, Ontario went shopping for new public transit vehicles. The lowest bid came from MLW Worthington, a Quebec-based outfit — but the contract went to Ontario's Hawker-Siddley at a higher price.

Alberta, meanwhile, gives preferred status to its own contractors for pipeline construction. Outside contractors get work only when there aren't any local firms available.

Manitoba stipulates that only Manitoba-based consulting engineers be employed on nuclear generating plants there. Competent engineers from anywhere else in Canada are out of luck.

Then there are the inter-provincial trucking wars where vehicles with out-of-province license plates are pulled off the road by police.

The examples of beggar-your-neighbour policies within Confederation are almost endless. It's impossible now to ignore the fact that Confederation just isn't working out the way the Fathers planned it. The provincial leaders are to blame — but so is Ottawa, which has failed to develop a comprehensive national development policy. The provincial ploys are born out of frustration with an economy that has stagnated.

Fenelon upsets Minden 1-0, in first game of playoffs

MINDEN — The Tri County men's playoffs got under way this week and the underdog teams in two series have taken a 1-0 lead in the best two of three quarter final series. On Sunday evening in Lindsay, the second place league finishers, Lindsay Merchants took it on the chin 7-3 by seventh place Woodville, in the A series.

On Monday evening in Minden the Merchants came up flat in losing 1-0 to Fenelon Falls in the B series. The C series which has the Haliburton Legionnaires playing Lindsay Juniors, gets underway on Tuesday, Aug. 29 in Haliburton.

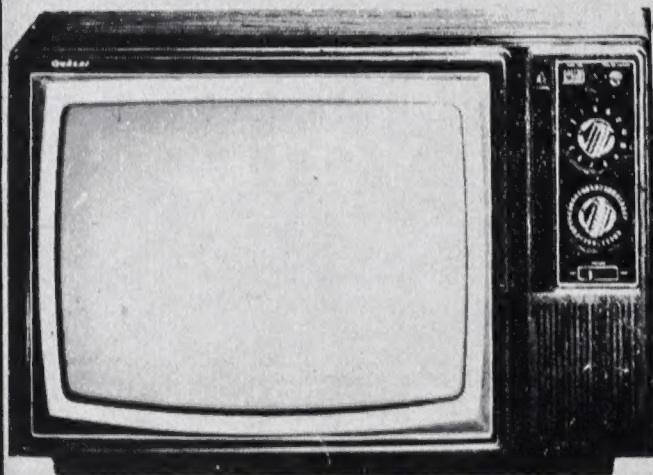

On Monday Minden outhit the Victoria Sport boys of Fenelon but just couldn't get the hits when they were needed. In the first inning Rick Hartwick tripled with one out but was left on base. In the third Dave Dollo walked, stole second with none out but that was as far as he got. In the sixth Harris Steele singled and stole second with one out but was left on base.

Ken Humphrie picked up the win while Hartwick suffered the loss for Minden. Next game in the series resumes in Fenelon on Wednesday with the third if necessary in Minden next Wednesday.

Truck skids at intersection hits service vehicle

MINDEN — The rainy, slippery conditions at the intersection of Hwy. 121 and Hwy. 35 north of Minden could be the cause of a two-truck collision early Monday morning. Karl V. Barry 57, of Haliburton was eastbound on Hwy. 121 approaching the intersection when his empty flat-deck truck started to slide on the slippery down grade. Apparently, Mr. Barry in trying to stop from going through the intersection turned the truck onto the median but it continued on across 35 and was struck broadside by a northbound 1976 Hydro truck. Driver of this truck, Lionel Davis 23, of Minden and a passenger Murray Cooper, also of Minden escaped unhurt as did Mr. Barry. Damage has been set at $5000 to the hydro truck and $500 to the lumber truck.— PC Jim Solway.

Bill Bird joins OBC staff as Public Relations Director

TORONTO — William A. Bird has been appointed Technical director and Director of Public Relations for the 50,000 member Ontario Bowlers Congress, governing body of Ontario for the sport of five pin bowling.

Bill has joined the OBC staff in Toronto from Sudbury, where he was employed for the last 20 years as Employee Communication Supervisor and Public Relations officer for the Sudbury operations of Falconbridge Nickel Mines Limited.

Earlier, he spent four years in a similar position in the Toronto head offices of Honeywell Controls Limited, and four years as a journalist with daily newspapers in Simcoe, Stratford, Kingston, Hamilton and Toronto.

A past national president of the Canadian Industrial Editor's Association, his newspaper articles and publications have earned numerous professional awards from that organization, from the Kitchener-Waterloo Record Press Club, from the Industrial Accident Prevention Association of Ontario (IAPA), the American Association of Industrial Editors, and the International Council of Industrial Editors.

Bill Bird also brings eight years' experience in the five pin sport to his new position, having been involved in the OBC National Youth Bowling Council and Master Bowlers Association programs at the house, zone and provincial levels. He is the founding and immediate past president of the Sudbury based Nickel District Bowlers' Association, and during the past year has been a member of the OBC board of directors.

He was OBC's 1977-78 "Executive of the Year" and was presented in the same year with the first "Zone Delegate of the Year Award" from the MBA. On behalf of 1000 Lakes Association we would like to welcome Bill to the Toronto office of the OBC and we look forward to working with him in the future.

CHECK PRICE, STYLE FIRST IN FURNITURE

Re-decorating or refurbishing a home usually begins with enthusiasm, but ends in frustration. The choice of style and price ranges in bedroom, dining room suites and other wood items is unlimited.

Some furniture win awards, like the Trillium Award which is given to recognize achievement in design, construction and marketability in Canadian made furniture. Winners are chosen by professionals in the industry, so you can be sure the furniture is of good quality and value.

To begin with, determine your needs. For example, if you're buying a dining room suite, will it be used daily or mainly for entertaining? If you're considering a new bedroom suite and you currently live in an apartment, try to picture the suite in a house. Ask yourself if you'll feel the same satisfaction in five to ten years.

Don't be afraid to ask the salespeople questions. They are experts and can answer any questions you may have.

Quality in Wood

What looks like wood may not be wood — entirely. Some furniture is solid wood, some veneer, some is wood combined with plastic molding and some is even plastic, simulated by photo processing to look like wood.

With all these materials, how does a consumer know what to buy? Familiarize yourself with these terms:

Solid: All exposed surface of parts to be constructed of solid wood of the kind or kinds indicated. (Exposed surfaces means parts of the furniture which are exposed to view when the piece is placed in the generally accepted position for use.)

Veneer: Material consists of wood layers permanently bonded with an adhesive; layers are bonded together at right angles for added strength.

Genuine: All exposed surfaces or parts to be of veneer or solid wood of a designated kind.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

You probably won't find all superior construction features in any one piece of furniture. There are some checkpoints which will help you choose quality merchandise.

Drawers: Pull out the drawers. Are there centre or side guides and stops? Drawer guides will insure easy operation and provide extra support.

A good piece of furniture will have dust panels between drawers to help keep the contents clean and prevent items falling from one drawer into the next.

Chairs: Don't just look — sit on them. Make sure they don't creak under your weight. Chair legs should be firmly fastened with connecting crossbars for added support.

Tables: The strength of a table depends on how well the legs are joined to the table top. Check underneath the surface and have a look. To test general strength, press down firmly with the palms of both hands. The table shouldn't sway back and forth. Make certain too, the table sits squarely on the floor.

If you have any questions about furniture, please write, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope to the Trillium Award Centre for Furniture, P.O. Box 85, 6900 Airport Road, Mississauga, Ontario, L4V 1E8.

OUR WEEKLY BREAD

Humility is also a virtue we should possess. With humility we would be less irritable and resentful.

Thus, if we have both patience and humility we will have peace in the midst of our troubles.

With these virtues we can proceed against our faults and our temptations. —PM

Which One is the Drop-out?
